

PROFESSIONAL WORKING DOG HANDLER QUALIFICATION

GLOBAL-SUPPORT.ORG

Our Approach

GSS Canine Training Division, in partnership with Reaseheath College, delivers the highest quality of theoretical and practical education for those looking for a career working with animals. As a result, candidates can take comfort from knowing their education will equip them with the skills to face their careers with ability and confidence.

Global Support Services (GSS) are the leading supplier for canine services in the UK. Our passion for raising the standards within the industry and providing a benchmark qualification has led us to develop a suite of externally accredited dog handling qualifications with Reaseheath College.

Reaseheath College and Global Support Services are pleased to introduce the first externally accredited Security Dog Handling courses specifically for general purpose and detection work. These courses are available for candidates both with and without previous experience but with a passion for working with dogs in the security industry. Reaseheath College is a specialist land-based college located in Nantwich, Cheshire. With over 500 hectares and world class facilities, candidates will have access to a superb learning environment. The college has a proven reputation for delivering qualifications of the highest standard in areas such as animal management, canine studies and dog training.

Candidates will benefit from both unique industry expertise of experienced GSS instructors and the full backing of Reaseheath College, an established and respected educational provider.

Case Study

Name Calvin Frasier

Calvin joined GSS in 2015 as a trainee on our training programme. Having just left the military, Calvin was looking for a career that challenged him, involved working with dogs and provided a clear career path for him.

“When I started at GSS, I had recently left the army and was finding it hard to adjust to civilian life. I’d always wanted to work with dogs and felt I could do it as a dog handler in the security industry. GSS helped me achieve this – within one short year, they provided me all the training, a company van and my dog Misty. My life has changed dramatically over the year and I have recently been able to buy my first house.”
