Introduction

Reaseheath College follows the principles of the Association of Colleges (AoC) Colleges' Senior Staff Remuneration Code, adopted by the Corporation in March 2019.

Composition, Purposes and Terms of Reference of the Remuneration Committee

1. Composition

The Remuneration Committee is comprised of five members, all of whom are either independent governors or independent co-opted committee members.

The Chair of the Board is a member of the Committee, but not permitted to Chair the Committee. Membership includes at least one member with specific human resource expertise/skills. The Principal, staff and student members are precluded from membership of the Remuneration Committee. The Committee has the power to consult external advisers to fulfil its responsibilities.

There were four senior staff within the remit of the Remuneration Committee in 2021-22. These were the Principal and CEO; the Vice Principal Finance and Resources; the Vice Principal Curriculum and Quality and the Company Secretary.

2. Purpose

The Remuneration Committee has been established to ensure that remuneration arrangements for all senior post-holders support the College's strategic aims and enable the recruitment, motivation and retention of the most senior staff whilst also complying with requirements of regulation and best practice. The Committee has delegated authority from the Board of Governors to advise and assure the Board on setting remuneration and terms and conditions for senior post-holders and the company secretary. It is tasked with ensuring adherence with the AoC Colleges' Senior Staff Remuneration Code and particularly with ensuring fair, appropriate and justifiable levels of remuneration, procedural fairness, transparency and accountability.

3. Terms of Reference

As a minimum, the Committee meets each business year for performance and salary reviews. The Committee met on 14 October 2021 and 3 February 2022.

Under its Terms of Reference, which are reviewed annually by the Committee, the Committee is to advise and assure the College Board on the remuneration and related matters of the senior post holders and the company secretary, including:

1. The remuneration policies and the package (salary and other benefits) and conditions of service of the designated senior post holders
2. The remuneration and conditions of service of the company secretary
3. Such other issues referred to the Committee by the College Board

Overarching Principles

The Committee has regard to the following overarching principles in setting terms and conditions for senior post-holders and the company secretary:

- Fair, appropriate and justifiable levels of remuneration, based on a clear understanding of the responsibilities, context and expected contribution of a role, the attributes required to undertake that role effectively and matters of equality, diversity and inclusion;
- Transparency and accountability;
- Proportionality, fairness and consistency in application;
- Recruitment and retention, ensuring that salaries are sufficient in the context of the market for the various roles and review of practice at comparator institutions balanced by the need to demonstrate the achievement of value for money in the use of resources;
- Process, with remuneration being set through a process based on the application of a consistent framework with independent decision-making informed by appropriate evidence and review;
- Compliance with the AoC Colleges' Senior Staff Remuneration Code.

Key considerations when determining and reviewing senior staff remuneration

The value of a post will be determined by a number of components and criteria for assessing the value of the role including job size; complexity; impact; levels of autonomy; accountability and decision-making authority; experience; knowledge and skills; reputation and credibility and external market comparisons.

In advising and making recommendations on setting senior salaries and conducting annual reviews the Remuneration Committee will have regard to comparative salaries and data issued by the Association of Colleges. The Committee utilise in particular, the AoC Senior Staff Pay Survey and benchmark pay against comparator roles in other similar sized colleges.

The Committee is entitled to seek independent professional and legal advice.

Annual Performance Review

The Chair of the Board of Governors will present an annual report to the Remuneration Committee on the Principal's and the company secretary's performance for the previous year. The annual report will provide information on performance against agreed objectives measured through a performance management framework.

The Principal will present a similar annual report to the Remuneration Committee on the performance of the other senior post-holders.
